

This 18-hole championship course was designed by Stephen Kay with distinct and memorable features of water, potbunkers and natural hazards complemented by bent and fescue grasses. The course rides lightly on top of a rolling landscape, with sweeping views of the lush surrounding countryside, rivals the links-style courses of Ireland and Scotland.

Other features include:

- Five tee positions from 5,198 yards to over 7,000
- Full service Golf Shop
- 10-day advance tee times
- Golf carts available, walking permitted
- Golf lessons and clinics for adults and juniors with our PGA Pro

Selected by the USGA to host the US Amateur Sectional Qualifier three times, The Links at Union Vale is engaging and challenging, yet still enjoyable for all levels of golfers.

TIPS TO CREATE A SUCCESSFUL EVENT

The big question has always been “how much should we charge to play in our event?” If you charge too much they do not sign up. If you charge too little, you don’t make enough money. But it’s not just about the price...

1. Create Value – the golfer wants more than they paid for.
2. The goal is to sell out.
3. Consider adding an early sign-up discount or a late sign-up premium to encourage your golfers to commit. A true commitment is an entry fee in hand!
4. Charge enough to cover your expenses per person and not much more.
5. Don’t over charge. The profit is in the sponsorships, auction and games.
6. If and when you sell out, then you can charge a little more the following year.
7. You can charge double or triple for a Pro Am or Celebrity Am.
8. Make sure they get a great goodie bag.
9. Give them a great golf course (that includes a friendly, knowledgeable staff)
10. Offer good food and pay for their drinks.
11. Offer great raffle prizes and auction items but move the auction along quickly.
12. Do a survey to make sure and don’t forget the Thank You notes.

REMEMBER: THE MOST IMPORTANT TOOL YOU HAVE IN PRODUCING A SUCCESSFUL GOLF TOURNAMENT IS YOUR VOLUNTEER COMMITTEE.

Pick the right people, train them and motivate them!
